TRANSITION AND ACCESS PROGRAM

UC's Transition and Access Program (TAP) in the College of Education, Criminal Justice, and Human Services is a 4-year residential certificate program for students with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

TAP students are actively engaged in an inclusive college experience as UC Bearcats. Students enrolled in TAP live on campus, take at least one UC undergraduate course each semester for credit or audit, and are enrolled in approximately four TAP courses each semester. TAP courses are developmental and designed to support students in developing competencies related to vocational skills, self-determination, social competence, independence, and community living. Former graduates have a 75% employment rate and 50% live independently.

UC is celebrating the program's third graduating class. Congratulations, graduates!

THE MACE

The mace carried by the university marshal is the gift of Sigma Sigma. From the fourteenth century, the ceremonial mace was used by civil and ecclesiastical authorities. Today, carried as an emblem of authority and prestige, it is commonly used to indicate the official opening of ceremonies.

UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI SEAL

On September 26, 1904, upon the suggestion of Dr. Charles W. Dabney, President of the University, the Board of Directors adopted the insignia of the city of Cincinnati as the official University seal. The scales, sword and Mercury's wand on a shield, along with the motto Juncta Juvant are mounted on a pointed ellipse surrounded by a belt bearing the words "University of Cincinnati" and the date 1819. Juncta Juvant literally means "Things joined are a help" (translated freely, "Strength in Unity"). In the space between the shield and the belt is a wreath of oak leaves. Below the shield is a scroll with the motto Alta Petit (translated freely, "She seeks the heights").

ACADMEMIC REGALIA

Academic costumes are as old as the universities themselves, recalling a time when all students in centers of higher learning were members of the clergy, and wore garments which were considered proper by the Church.

American universities, unlike those of England and Europe, have adopted a standard code of academic costume. The Oxford-type cap or mortarboard is always black and may be made of any material except velvet, which is reserved for doctors. The tassel worn with the cap has three variations: black for any degree; the color of the faculty in which the degree was granted; or made of gold metallic thread, reserved for doctors and governing officials of institutions.

Each person who receives a degree wears the gown appropriate to the degree granted. The bachelor's gown is closed at the throat and has long pointed sleeves; the master's gown has oblong sleeves, open at the wrist, tapering at the back in a square cut, which ends in an arc cutaway. The doctor's gown is an elaborate one, marked by velvet panels down the front and around the neck as well as by three bars of the same material on the bell shaped sleeves. It is cut much fuller than the other gowns, and unlike them, may be ornamented in color. Both the paneling and sleeve bars may show the faculty in which the degree was awarded.

The hood alone clearly shows the level of the degree, the faculty in which it was given, and the institution which awarded it. The level of the degree is shown by the size of the hood, the width of the velvet trimming, and in the case of the doctor, by the shape. The bachelor's, master's and doctor's hoods are three feet, three and one-half feet, and four feet long respectively; although bachelor's seldom wear hoods anymore. The velvet trimming in the same order is two, three and five inches, extending around the hood on the exposed edge. For each faculty there is a corresponding color, so a glance at the trimming is all that is needed to identify the faculty. The institution which awarded the degree is indicated by the colored lining.

Members of the governing body of a college or university, whatever their degrees may be, are entitled to wear the gown warranted by their degree or a doctor's gown. The doctor's gown is trimmed in black velvet or the color representative of their degree, but their hoods may be only those degrees actually held by the wearer or those especially prescribed for them by the institution.

April, 2018

Dear UC Graduates:

Congratulations to you (and your family) on the momentous occasion of your graduation from the University of Cincinnati, and joining the UC Alumni Family — 300,000 strong and growing!

You begin your alumni life with a vast, powerful network-in-waiting, because your fellow Bearcats are virtually everywhere and doing everything. They tell us that staying connected to the university and each other carries enormous advantages in life, and the UC Alumni Association (UCAA) makes it easy. We have 30+ alumni networks throughout the U.S. plus a vibrant Young Professionals group in Cincinnati. There are also alumni networks for each college, with others organized by shared interests. Plus, UCAA's social media provides a continuous flow of relevant information to help you engage easily with others in the UC family.

Alumni of all ages also tell us that, from Commencement forward, they begin to see themselves and their alma mater differently. Students often view UC as “where I go to school,” whereas alumni are more likely to think of UC as “my school — a part of me forever.” It’s a subtle yet important distinction in how we feel about and interact with our university. There’s a different sense of ownership and pride. Through our common experiences and passions, we feel more united, and that compels us to be actively involved.

You’re ready to do big things in life, and UC has prepared you well. So build on your tremendous education and personal UC experience — and don’t put college “behind you.” Coming to UC was a life decision, and staying engaged with UC is a lifelong adventure with endless rewards.

Again, congratulations from all of your fellow Bearcats. We’re thrilled to welcome you to the UC Alumni Family!

Again, congratulations. We’re thrilled to welcome you!

Sincerely,
